DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 15-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meisburger (968), as cited in IDS of 5-13-02.

Meisburger (968) discloses the basic apparatus of applicants' alleged invention comprising: a means for producing a particle beam; means for directing a beam along a path to one of a plurality of possible sites; via deflector means; detectors for detecting secondary particles; means for guiding secondary particles to said detectors (col.11, third paragraph); and means to compare respective signals produced in response to detected reference signals (col.5, last paragraph).

Art Unit: 2881

As seen in Figure 7 the substrate to be investigated may be located on a movable x-y table. Also the movement of the table can be synchronized with the scanning / deflecting of a primary particle beam as seen in col.5, lines 46-50 or col.8, lines 55-57.

In response to the amendment of 8-14-02 (page 2), applicants explain what is meant by the terminology of "to generate signals having values which vary in response to changes in the space between said detector and different ones of said selected sites" as in claim 15, and " a value which varies in response to differences in the space between said detector and said selected one of said sites" as recited in claim 26, by referencing to exhibit Figures A&B.

Applicants state that no z-direction motion is present only movement in say an x-y direction, via the movement of the substrate on said table. In other words, when the table moves in Figure A-to Figure B then the distance between a selected site(s) and the detector varies (wherein  $d_1$  is not equal to  $d_2$ ).

It is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that Meisburger's device would inherently produce the same type of dependent signal on the distance between said site(s) and detector, when a site(s) on said substrate is shifted in like manner.

Furthermore, according to claims 22 and 23, whether one controls the guiding means of said secondary particles to said detector as a function of the space between a site and detector or independently of said space, is obviously a matter of choice to one skilled in the art.

Art Unit: 2881

Therefore, it is felt by the examiner that Meisburger's device essentially discloses applicants' alleged invention.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on 5-13-02 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 609(B)(2)(i). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
